“ I last talked to Mr. Jack at my Uncle Wayne Coker's funeral. He walked up to me in his usual confident and friendly way and said, "I know you're one of those Coker-boys, but can't remember which one". I told him I belonged to Herman. He said "oh yes!", and he was off and talking. He officiated over many of my relatives' funerals and was a long-time family friend. He will be sorely missed. Rest well, Mr. Jack, peace be with you.

“ I am grateful for a life-long friend who had such an impact on our community. Our school days at HCHS - even though he was three grades ahead of me - were early memories through band and other activities; the public services in which he was so involved, and the church-related connections will long live in my memory of Jackie. And it fascinated both of us that we had family ties through my great grandparents J.D. and Matilda Faircloth Paul. What a small, wonderful world. Thoughts and prayers to the family.
