“ As his cousin, I loved going to family reunions and playing hide and seek in the cornfields with Stella and Joey in the dusk hours of the afternoon. He scared the crap out of me one time in those fields when he found me but it was so much fun. I always thought he was so handsome and if I could have kissed any cousin it would have been him, but he was always a gentleman and would never do anything like that. He was a lot of fun to hang out with and listen to his stories. Watching him grow into a man he became even more handsome and was always so fun. It was really hard to see him deteriorate over the years knowing that he couldn't remember who I was, well, it was hard to take but we still laughed and told stories when we could see each other. He will always be one of my favorite cousins and I know that he is having a big reunion with those we have lost over the years up in heaven and his mind is sharp, his spirit is strong and he is still loving all of us from the best place anyone could be. Love you Joey and to all of the family, I love you all and I know this is particularly hard for you all, so I'm sending you all of my love.
